To help buyers in the professional food trades find exactly what they are looking for from Virginia's outstanding selection of fresh and processed foods and beverages, the Virginia Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services has published the 2006-2007 Virginia Food and Beverage Directory. It is a ready reference with listings for companies which sell a wide variety of the state's exceptional products.

The directory's categories include bakery and dairy products, fruits, herbs, jams and jellies, meats, pasta, salads, sauces, seafood, snack foods, soups and vegetables, among others. In addition to contact information, the listings summarize each company's product line, provide brand names, and indicate by letter code which vendors sell wholesale, retail, for the foodservice market, and mail order. Here is how the code system works:

- W The company sells products at wholesale prices to supermarkets, wholesalers, specialty/gourmet retailers, gift shops, brokers and distributors, foodservice companies/institutions, and mail order companies.
- R The company sells at retail prices through their own retail shop(s), mail order catalog, Web site or via direct marketing to consumers.
- FS The company sells products at wholesale prices to the foodservice industry.
- MO The company sells at retail prices via mail order.

In the listings, the Virginia's Finest trademark appears next to the names of companies which have earned this quality designation. The well-known blue checkmark and large red A appear only on high-quality agricultural products which have met industry standards approved by the Virginia Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services.

An online version of the directory is available at www.vdacs.virginia.gov/food&beverage where entries will be updated periodically. Additional sources for information include these:

Christmas trees, nursery products and other non-food products

Virginia's Finest Means What It Says.

Virginia's Finest

Virginia's Finest means peerless agricultural products grown, produced or processed in Virginia. It stands for the best of the best in foods and beverages as well as non-grocery items. It means buying with the assurance that your purchase will more than meet your expectations.

Only high-quality agricultural products which meet standards set by industry and approved by the Virginia Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services earn the right to be called Virginia's Finest and to display the trademark. So when you see the blue check and red A trademark on fresh and processed foods, beverages and more, you will know they are the very best the Commonwealth has to offer.

Look for the distinctive trademark on produce, meats and fish, peanuts, wines, nursery stock and other top-quality Virginia products.

For more information on the Virginia's Finest trademark program, contact the Virginia Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, Division of Marketing, (800) 284-9452 or visit www.vafinest.com.
